Respondent further agrees to the following conditions as requirements for the issuance of this reprimand:

EDUCATION COURSE. Within 60 calendar days of the effective date of this Decision, Respondent shall submit to the Board or its designee for its prior approval educational program(s) or course(s) which shall not be less than 30 hours. Respondent shall provide proof of attendance for 55 hours of CME of which 30 hours were in satisfaction of this condition.

Failure to comply with the Education Course requirement may constitute unprofessional conduct and may result in disciplinary action.

FIRST CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

(Gross Negligence)

6. Respondent has subjected her Physician's and Surgeon's Certificate No. C 50031 to disciplinary action under sections 2227 and 2234, as defined by section 2234, subdivision (b), of the Code, in that she was grossly negligent in her care and treatment of Patient A,[1] as more particularly alleged hereinafter:

[1] To protect the privacy of the patient involved, the patient's name has not been included in this pleading. Respondent is aware of the identity of the patient referred to herein.

7. In or around April 2015, Respondent operated an obstetrics and gynecology (OBGYN) private practice clinic, and had privileges at Watsonville Community Hospital (WCH). WCH did not have OBGYN hospitalists at that time, so Respondent provided call coverage for her patients.

8. On or about April 20, 2015, Respondent performed a scheduled cesarean section and elective bilateral tubal ligation on Patient A, a then thirty-three (33) year old patient, whose medical history included a hip replacement, two prior cesarean sections, gestational diabetes, gestational hypertension, and late prenatal care. The surgery was uneventful, with an estimated blood loss of 400 cc. At approximately 2:15 p.m., the patient was transported to the postpartum unit.

9. Respondent lived approximately fifteen (15) minutes from WCH. At approximately 5:00 p.m., Respondent left WCH and went home.

10. At approximately 10:10 p.m., while in the postpartum unit, Patient A was alert and conscious, but complained of dizziness. At that time, her lochia was reportedly moderate to light, and her blood pressure was 77/42.

11. At approximately 10:45 p.m., Patient A was alert and conscious, her lochia was light, and her blood pressure was noted to be 77/35 with a pulse of 110.

12. At approximately 11:00 p.m., Patient A's nurse then called Respondent at home, and informed her of the patient's low blood pressure readings and low urine output of 100 ml for the preceding six (6) hours. Respondent ordered a STAT complete blood count (CBC) and administration of 5mg of ephedrine.[2] Respondent did not return to the hospital at that time.

13. After the administration of ephedrine, Patient A's blood pressure initially improved to 95/75, but then lowered to 83/50 at approximately 12:01 a.m.

14. At approximately 12:30 a.m., Patient A was alert and conscious, but complained of nausea. Her blood pressure was noted to be 74/40 with a pulse of 114. Patient A's nurse then called Respondent at home for a second time, and informed her of the patient's low blood pressure readings and her mildly distended abdomen. Respondent had not followed-up on the patient's STAT CBC results and did not inquire of the results at that time. Respondent then ordered a second administration of 5mg of ephedrine and a bolus of normal saline. Sometime thereafter, Respondent drove to the hospital.

15. At approximately 12:59 a.m., Patient A had labored breathing and was no longer responsive. A rapid response was called by nursing staff. Respondent arrived at Patient A's room approximately ten (10) minutes later, as the rapid response was in progress. The patient required intubation and was transported to the intensive care unit (ICU).

16. At approximately 1:30 a.m., Respondent ordered to crossmatch four (4) units of blood STAT and to begin transfusion.

17. At approximately 2:49 a.m., Patient A's heart rate dropped and a "Code Blue" was called. The patient responded to CPR.

18. On or about April 21, 2015, Patient A developed hypovolemic shock and acute renal failure. Throughout that day, multiple abdominal ultrasounds revealed a large amount of free fluid in her abdomen, and a CT scan of her pelvis revealed a massive hemoperitoneum.[3] Patient A received multiple blood products, including packed red blood cells, platelets, and fresh frozen plasma.

19. At approximately 4:45 p.m., Patient A returned to the operating room for an exploratory laparotomy, during which approximately 3000 cc of clots and blood were evacuated.

20. At approximately 10:00 p.m., Patient A was emergently transported by helicopter to Stanford Hospital. Patient A received a prolonged course of medical treatment until approximately June 2015, when she was released home.

21. Respondent committed gross negligence in her care and treatment of Patient A, which included but was not limited to, the following:

A. Failing to recognize the severity of the patient's internal bleeding and failing to actively manage her circulatory volume; and

B. Ordering two rounds of ephedrine in a patient presenting with signs and symptoms of shock due to hypovolemia.

[3] Hemoperitoneum is the presence of blood in the peritoneal cavity.

SECOND CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

(Repeated Negligent Acts)

22. Respondent has further subjected her Physician's and Surgeon's Certificate No. C 50031 to disciplinary action under sections 2227 and 2234, as defined by section 2234, subdivision (c), of the Code, in that she committed repeated negligent acts in her care and treatment of Patient A, as more particularly alleged in paragraphs 6 through 21, above, which are incorporated by reference and realleged, as if fully set forth herein.

THIRD CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

(Incompetence)

23. Respondent has further subjected her Physician's and Surgeon's Certificate No. C 50031 to disciplinary action under sections 2227 and 2234, as defined by section 2234, subdivision (d), of the Code, in that she has demonstrated incompetence in her care and treatment of Patient A, by failing to recognize the internal bleeding, and managing the patient's low blood pressure in a postoperative course with ephedrine, as more particularly alleged in paragraphs 6 through 21 above, which are incorporated by reference and realleged, as if fully set forth herein.
